Von Starhemberg Plans Dictatorship Over Austria

GOVERNMENT IN HANDS OF NEW CABINET

Leaders Will Display Italian Leanings; Troops Will Celebrate

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press) VIENNA, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Prince Ernst Rudiger Von Starhemberg, friend and admirer of Benito Mussolini, today ordered full speed ahead toward consolidation of his virtual dictatorship over Austria.

The fascist vice chancellor, whose power overshadows the nominal authority still resting in the hands of Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, after yesterday's bloodless coup, took his first step toward control of the country by consolidating military organizations into unified national militia.

Plan Celebration

His position was further bulked when 5,000 of the lower Austrian Heimwehr marched into Vienna. They will take part tonight in a torchlight demonstration in favor of the new government.

This instrument of power is to be known as the voluntary militia and Austrian home protection corps.

The keystone of Starhemberg's policy was set forth in a government communiqué which said:

"It goes without saying that the aims of Austrian foreign policy will not be altered. The policy always pursued has had as its aim preservation of Austria's independence and promotion of the country's economic interests. This policy requires that, while friendly relations with all countries are desirable, other countries maintaining friendly relations with Austria should fully recognize Austria's vital economic interests."

Despite this declaration the opinion prevails in Vienna that Austria, under Starhemberg's leadership, inevitably will display strong Italian leanings and consequently will be less friendly to England and the League.

The internal situation leading to Starhemberg's seizure of power remained somewhat clouded to-day. Rivalry between Starhemberg and Major Emil Fey, minister of Interior in the ousted cabinet and leader of the Vienna Heimwehr, furnished a reason for retiring the latter. But it is not clear whether Starhemberg struck first, to forestall a move by Fey, or whether he merely saw an opportunity to leap into the saddle without encountering great resistance from the Vienna Heimwehr.

BED-RIDDEN YOUTH GREAT FISHERMAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Charles M. Fickert, former San Francisco district attorney, was accused directly today of concealing evidence and attempting bribery in an effort to insure Thomas J. Mooney's conviction for the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing.

The sensational charges were made by Charles A. Griffin, Seattle advertising man who was a San Francisco court reporter at the time of the fatal holiday explosion which claimed 10 lives and injured 36 other persons.

Griffin, called as a defense witness at today's hearing on Mooney's state supreme court habeas corpus action, proved the most powerful aide yet called by the defense in an effort to prove its contention that Mooney and Warren K. Billings were "railroaded" to prison for life as the parade without encountering great resistance from the Vienna Heimwehr.

Brush Blaze Rages Near San Diego

Five Hundred Men Pressed Into Service To Battle Flames

BULLETIN

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Six hundred fire fighters brought a large brush blaze in Cleveland National Forest under "partial control" at noon today and may have the upper hand by nightfall, national forest rangers reported.

A swiftly-spreading brush blaze broke out in Cleveland National Forest, 40 miles east of here, shortly after several large brush fires in the county were brought under control today, National Forest service rangers reported.

More than 500 men, with tank trucks and other equipment were to be rushed into the area. Many of the fighters, drafted to combat blazes yesterday and last night, have been working steadily since yesterday.

The new librarian was selected from among more than 50 applicants. The choice had simmered down to between three persons, and because of her vast experience Miss Walker was selected for the post, it was stated. She takes the place vacated through the resignation of Miss Jeannette McFadden, who had served as city librarian for about 33 years.

In 1917 Miss Walker became a member of the staff of the Cleveland, Ohio, public library, where she passed a semi-professional apprenticeship course with the highest honors in a class of 35. Her six and a half years in Cleveland covered one and a half years in the catalog department and nine months in the circulation department of the main library.

WPA GATHERS DATA ON COUNTY SCENIC AND HISTORIC SPOTS

A STAFF of field and research workers, representing the American Guide, a Works Progress Administration project, will be engaged in Santa Ana and other Orange county cities with a population of more than 10,000 for the coming months gathering detailed information on scenic, historic and industrial interests and possibilities, it was learned today.

A letter was received here today from Henry G. Alberg, director of Federal Writers' projects of the WPA, outlining the project which will be started here in the near future.

Information received will be digested for the Guide, but the original articles, maps, and photographs will be left with each city, county and state for use in preparing local guides. These guides are expected to supply a need that has not been adequately met by existing compilations.

Their contents will bear the stamp of authenticity placed on them by federal experts. Their descriptions will not only tell of well recognized matters of interest, but

WHERE A. J. CRUICKSHANK SPENT VIGIL

The arrow points to the ranger's shelter house on Brakoff Mountain, on the border of the Lassen Volcanic National Park, where Angus J. Cruickshank, 70, Santa Ana banker, spent three days after becoming separated from his hunting companions.

Ted Rex, noted skier, who aided in the search and who skied almost to the top of the peak, is shown in the foreground.

CRUICKSHANK WILL GET HOME TONIGHT

A. J. Cruickshank, well known

Santa Ana, missing three days in a blizzard in Lassen county early this week, will return to his home at Tustin late tonight.

Mrs. Cruickshank received a telegram from him late this morning stating that he had arrived in Sacramento on his way home from a hunting camp in the Lassen National Volcanic park, where since

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, searching parties searched for him through three feet of snow.

Cruickshank with A. J. Mc-

Fadden, also of Santa Ana, are returning here by automobile.

Guests at the lecture are attending the affair.

Each bee performs his own specialty and nothing else, according to Johnson. Even the egg-laying is a highly specialized job. The queen does all of it, laying possibly 1500 eggs a day, and does nothing else.

There is one encouraging thing about bees to those who expect to attend Johnson's lecture. They have very poor eye-sight.

This, despite the fact that each bee has several thousand eyes, which means that there must be a lot of ogling going on, even with just one queen to a swarm.

Unable to see very well, the bee depends upon his olfactory nerve. He recognizes every other bee in the beehive, colony, by the odor. Guests at the lecture are advised not to eat garlic before attending the affair.

As the federation pushed to-

HUNT REBELS WITH PLANES NEAR NOGALES

BANKERS TESTIFY ON STATE DEPOSITS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Bankers and accountants were called before the Sacramento county grand jury today to testify concerning financial transactions and deposits of State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson.

District Attorney Otto D. Babcock indirectly invited the treasurer to appear before the jury when he said, publicly, that there was "nothing to prevent Johnson from explaining the whole mess."

"I will give him access to every bit of evidence I have," Babcock said. "He knows he cannot be forced to testify, but he will get every assistance from me if he appears voluntarily."

To which Johnson replied, "that is very considerate of Mr. Babcock," but declined to say whether he would accept the "invitation."

partment of the second largest branch of the system, having a staff of 14 persons.

In 1928 she came to California taking a position in the Los Angeles Public Library in the catalog department. Later she took charge of a branch library in Long Beach. In less than four years in Long Beach the circulation of the library was increased from 2500 to more than 8000.

In 1926 she went to Palo Alto, where she had full charge of the reference and readers' aid department, with the responsibility of spending a book fund as high as $7000, but which has been reduced in the last two years to $5500. She has had charge of changing the charging system at Palo Alto from an antiquated form to the accepted Newark system.

Miss Walker is filling the post of president of the second and third districts of the California Library association. The district covers 13 counties.

LEGION CHIEFS LAUNCH BONUS MOVE SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—The American Legion high command moved toward Ashland, Ky., today for the launching Sunday of its drive for enactment of a cash bonus bill at the next session of congress.

Legion officials here passed the word around that "something important" will be done at the meeting, ostensibly a routine affair to inaugurate a Kentucky state membership campaign.

The roster of speakers and guests provides the "tip off" that the bonus move will be opened formally in at least two "keynote" addresses. These will be by the Legion's national commander, Frank Murphy, and Rep. Fred Vinson, D. Ky., sponsor of a $2,200,000 cash bonus proposal.

Legion officials aren't saying much, but it is apparent they believe they will have an important ally in the American Federation of Labor when they start talking bonus to congressmen in January.

The Legion and the Federation are on the friendliest of terms, and are in agreement on the bonus." John T. Taylor, the Legion's legislative counselor, said, "Many of the A. F. of L.'s members also are Legionnaires."

Observers believe that a coalition of labor and Legion forces in support of the bonus would provide a steam-roller which congress would be unable to resist, even in the face of an almost certain presidential veto.

Indications that the Legion and Federation of Labor have reached an "understanding" on the bonus was strengthened by an exchange of speakers at recent national conventions of the two organizations.

President William Green of the A. F. of L. promised his organization would help the Legion fight for the bonus and for widows and orphans' pensions. Just what form that help would take he did not say.

The bonus fight is expected to come early in the session. Proponents and opponents are anxious to dispose of the issue as quickly as possible. Legion tactics are pointed toward sufficient votes to override another expected presidential veto.

root. He knew both Mooney and his wife, Rena, slightly, he said, and chatted with them as they reviewed the parade. He said the Mooneys were on the building roof until a policeman rushed up and ordered it cleared, explaining:

"They've been throwing bombs from rooftops downtown."

Griffin described his amazement when he bought a newspaper some time later and read that Mooney had been arrested for the bombing.

With the paper still in his hand, he testified, he hastened to Flickert's office.

Talks to Flickert

"Why Mooney couldn't have planted that bomb because I saw him and was with him and his wife on the top of the Ellers building at the very time the explosion took place," he said he told the district attorney.

To this, he alleged, Flickert responded:

"Mooney and his gang are a bunch of anarchists and murderers and should have been hanged long ago. You don't want to get mixed up in this."

A few days later, Griffin said, he again interviewed Flickert.

"Don't talk to anybody about this Mooney case and I'll get you a good job as court reporter with the grand jury," he said Flickert told him. "Anyway, you're mistaken about Mooney being on the Ellers building and we don't need you as a witness because we have 20 or 30 others who will fix him up all right."

Griffin said he never was called as a witness in the case, subsequently moving to Seattle, where he entered the advertising business.

DEATH PENALTY FOR ZENGE IS DEMANDED

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—The state today demanded the death penalty for Mandeville W. Zenge for committing the "gruesome and ghastly murder" of Dr. Walter J. Bauer.

The demand was made before a jury in Judge Cornelius J. Harrington's criminal court as assistant district attorney Mal Coughlin completed his closing argument in the sensational emasculation-murder trial.

After Judge Harrington had overruled a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, Coughlin ripped into the defense case, attacking the temporary insanity argument and climaxing his closing argument with a dramatic appeal for a conviction of first degree murder and the death penalty.

BRITISH WARSHIP SAVES ITALIANS

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—British warships saved passengers and crew of the Italian liner Ausonia today after an explosion which set the ship afire and killed six members of the crew.

The ship steamed in here in flames and British picket boats took off the last passenger just as the fire reached the cabins. The fire subsequently destroyed the whole interior of the liner. The six dead were all members of the boiler room crew.

The cause of the explosion could not be determined.

The records covering complete redemption of back taxes for the three months mentioned, show that where 1032 pieces of property were redeemed in 1932 and 746 in 1933, the total jumped to 1794 pieces in 1934 and then leaped to 3974 in 1935. In other words, a total of 7416 pieces of property in the county came off the delinquent list in these portions of the four years.

FRANCE WILL AGREE TO MEET BRITISH TERMS

As for the Red Sea, Britain has Aden, around the corner of the Asian continent from its southern entrance, a fleet base and the Aden protectorate extends up to the strait of Bab El Mandeb, which it can dominate with big guns.

Italian Eritrea lies just north of the straits, its coast entirely on the narrow Red Sea, and thus it could be cut off apparently with comparative ease. Even if Italy recaptured Eritrea its ships would have to go all around the coast of Africa.

Joaquim d' Vasconcellos of Portugal, chairman of the league penalties committee, intends tomorrow to communicate to the United States, Japan, Germany, Brazil and presumably Iceland, non members of the league, measures taken so far and measures proposed to be taken against Italy.

Britain And France To Work Together

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Close cooperation between France and England in efforts to bring the Italo-Ethiopian war to a speedy end were forecast today in well-informed circles.

A joint Anglo-French effort to restore peace in East Africa, it was believed, will be based upon rapid impositions upon Italy of all sanctions applicable under League of Nations authority.

The program for halting Mussolini's conquest of Ethiopia will be decided upon in the next 24 hours, it was predicted. There was a strong feeling here that France's reply to London's request for a plain "yes" or "no" answer on French assistance in the Mediterranean in the event of an attack on the British fleet will be affirmative. Otherwise, it is pointed out, the whole structure of the League would be threatened, an eventually both France and England are doing their utmost to avoid.

Speedy application of sanctions to Italy, diplomatic and political observers believe, ultimately may lead to Pierre Laval's resignation as premier and foreign minister of France. Laval is thought to believe that danger of war lies in application of stern punitive measures to the Fascist government. French opinion is divided whether sanctions would result in conflict or surrender by Mussolini of his African ambitions.

Evidence is multiplying that John Bull is determined to bring the full force of Article XVI of the league covenant to bear upon Mussolini.

A major rearmament program in Britain is certain. The air ministry's plans for expansion of the royal air force provide for construction of 18 types of aircraft, mostly bombing machines. Two thousand machines will be built between now and March, 1937. Aircraft factories all over Great Britain are already organized to meet the heaviest rush of work they have ever had.

The case has attracted considerable attention, coming as it did after a strike of field workers in the Tustin Hills field had resulted in an increase in pay and other considerations. It was learned today that the Villa Park association had agreed to grant the bonus, as requested.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Finlayson attended house warming Wednesday evening in Yong Beach.

In view of the departure this weekend of W. T. Vandruff to the Chicago Townsend club convention as delegate from the Oceanview club, Tuesday evening's meeting was taken up with arrangements for the trip.

There are no ranches in the immediate vicinity of the Cleveland fire.

Two brush fires were reported near Tijuana in Mexico. It was not believed they would reach the international border.

W. H. Coupe, deputy state forester, arrived today from Riverside to aid in directing CCC workers and volunteers in battling the blazes.

The outbreaks, said to be the worst in this area in years, were aided by unseasonable weather.

Yesterday's maximum temperature of 84 degrees, accompanied by exceptionally low humidity, probably will be reached again today, weather bureau officials said.

Cooperation of the sheriff's office probably will be asked in an attempt to determine origin of the blazes, state foresters reported.

From where she was lying she could see them when they came out of the cafe and enter an automobile and drive away going south on Stanton boulevard.

Proprietor Asleep

Sheriff's officers today were seeking two Mexicans, one described as being "heavily bearded," who at 11:30 o'clock last night, held up Nell's cafe, at the intersection of Cerritos avenue and Stanton boulevard, in Stanton, and after binding and gagging a waitress, robbed the cash register of $11 in cash and escaped in an automobile.

Clara Nixon, 25, the waitress, reported to officers that she was bound hands and feet with towels for 45 minutes before another customer of the cafe came and turned them over to officers.

"There are no radical changes," he said. "The 85-horsepower V-8 engine, of which more than 2,000,000 are now on the road, is unaltered.

"Of the three principal chassis improvements, one—improved steering—is aimed at greater ease and safety of operation. Two others tend to greater comfort. One is the use of new steel wheels which lessen the unsprung weight of the car and thus provide greater riding comfort. The other is an improved transmission, using quiet helical gears in all speeds, including reverse. A new front end treatment gives added distinction to the body lines."

POLICE DECIDE WINTER IS HERE; MAKE UNIFORM CHANGE

With a desert wind blowing hot gusts across the city, making it as warm here as in the middle of the summer, the Santa Ana police today switched from their "summer" uniforms to their "winter" outfits. As a matter of fact there is little difference, but when the change is made, it is indicative that the police believe that winter has come.

In the summer the police are allowed to leave their blue coats at home and appear on downtown beats dressed in blue shirts. The new regulation, in effect today, is white shirts and the regulation blue blouse.

Eight members of the Orange county squad of the California Highway Patrol, returned here last night from San Diego where they have been for the past several days attending the annual convention of state police.

The Santa Ana delegation was in charge of Captain Henry Meehan.

For three days some 100 officers were given instruction in safety on the roads and methods of preventing accidents, in morning sessions. The afternoon and evening sessions were turned over to entertainment, Captain Meehan reported.

The convention ended yesterday with a parade and inspection at Fort Rosecrans, in which several hundred men from the naval training station passed in review before the state police.

main island. At Osaka they discovered a stowaway in the plane. From here they went across the Yellow Sea to China and up the Yangtze river in Nanking. Once there, Colonel Lindbergh helped to bring aid to flood refugees. Shortly afterwards, their flight ended when the plane overturned as it was being lowered from the British airplane carrier, Hermes.

Mrs. Lindbergh deals with the flight from the point of view of her personal experiences. She begins with the careful preparations and tells in detail the difficulties she met in learning to be a radio operator. Once the light is underway, the narrative becomes a dramatic and fascinating one, describing the hours of uncertainty and danger, the friendly encounters along the way, and the thousand unexpected things that happened.

Every citizen is touched in some degree by current or impending labor movements. Thus "Labor, Industry and Government" by Matthew Woll is a book that every thinking person will want to read. It is especially significant coming from a man who has been associated with President Gompers and President Green. Also for many years Matthew Woll has been vice president of the American Federation of Labor.

The beginnings, principles and policies of American labor organizations are fully discussed. American labor history is brought up to the present. Principles, trends and tendencies underlying the New Deal, especially as they concern labor and the average person are studied. There are illuminating chapters of special significance on such topics as "Labor's Right to Organize," "Majority and Minority Representation," "Collective Bargaining," "Strikes," "Codification of Industry," "Prices and Profits," "Economic Planning," "Monetary Inflation," and "Social Insurance." Many other subjects are dealt with in an instructive fashion. Not only is the volume concerned with conditions in America but it deals with foreign relations and international labor movements and labor relations in several of the older European countries.

This volume possesses an immediate value because of its relevance to contemporary conditions. In addition to this it is an outstanding book upon its particular subject and related problems.

ST. MARY'S DENIES ABOLITION OF GRID

MORAGA, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Brother Albert, president of St. Mary's college, told the United Press today that "St. Mary's will have a football team next year and our friend 'Slip' Madigan will be the head coach."

Brother Albert's statement was in refutation of persistent reports and rumors the last three days that football at St. Mary's was headed to the discard and that Madigan would be released because the school's first mortgage obligations, totaling $1,370,500, are in default and that drastic savings retrenchment was imperative "to keep the bankers from moving in."

Madigan also reiterated his denial that football was in danger at St. Mary's or that he might quit.

BENEFIT DANCE TO BE GIVEN BY S. A. POLICE TO RAISE FUNDS FOR NEW QUARTERS

Santa Ana police were making plans today for the staging of a benefit dance at the Santa Ana American Legion hall, on or about November 1, for the purpose of raising funds for equipping its squad room and gymnasium in the new Santa Ana city hall building, Chief of Police Floyd W. Howard announced today.

Plans for the dance have not materialized far enough to announce the date as yet, Howard said, but there will be a great need for equipment for the gymnasium and squadroom in that there has been no appropriation made for either room in the new building setup, it was said.

Just how much money is needed is not known, but all of the proceeds of the dance will go to the police. Officers intend to install punching bags, horses, a handball court, rowing machine, and other gymnasium equipment. In the squad room tables and chairs will be needed, Howard said.

Police officers will sell tickets for the dance, Howard estimating that enough can be sold in a week's time to make the dance a big success.

A cigarette factory is being built in Persia. Capacity of the new plant will roll 12,000,000 cigarettes daily.

S. A. BOYS PLEDGED PHI GAMMA DELTA

John Henderson, 2441 Riverside Drive, and Charles Spicer, 2345 North Park Boulevard, Santa Ana youths in their freshman year at Occidental college, this week were pledged to Phi Gamma Delta, national social fraternity, it was reported today.

Henderson and Spicer were among 84 men pledged to Occidental fraternities. There are five fraternities on the Occidental campus, four of which have national affiliations. Pledging took place after three weeks of rushing activity.

Difficulties in the path of American neutrality toward the present Italo-Ethiopian conflict, and the even more severe problem of neutrality in the event of an European war, were discussed by Dr. Henry W. Cooke, professor of history at Pomona college, lecturing last night in Willard auditorium on the Adult Education lecture course.

Dr. Cooke indicated that successful neutrality depended greatly upon whether the American people were willing to sacrifice material benefits from trade, and endure loss of markets, in the interest of peace. At the conclusion of his lecture, many in his audience participated in the discussion of this problem.

One of the most hopeful prospects for restoring peace abroad, said Dr. Cooke, is the fact that 57 nations have considered and discussed the war before it started, and are acting in concert to avoid conflict.

The United States, as a nation, always has felt its responsibility of leadership in world ideals, more especially since the time of Theodore Roosevelt, said Dr. Cooke. He mentioned Woodrow Wilson, Col. House, Secretary of State Frank Kellogg and Secretary Hull as having especially demonstrated their belief that the world should be guided by a moral principle.

Next Thursday's lecture on the Adult Education program, as announced today by Mrs. Golden Weston, director, will be delivered by Dr. William B. Munro, professor of political science at California Institute of Technology, whose subject will be "The Great Britain and European War Policies." This subject, it is said, will be treated from the British standpoint.

Entrance was made to rooms occupied by C. A. Oliver, where a radio worth $85 and a suit of clothes valued at $45 was reported taken and Mike Gonzales where a radio set worth $27 was taken.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

By PAUL MALLON

DANGER
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Those who are wiser in the ways of war feel that Mussolini is in a very bad fix in Ethiopia.

His smart General Bono is sending out glamorous tales of victories to keep the Rome fires burning, but these cannot conceal his dangerous predicament from the wary eyes of those in the know here.

The kind of victories De Bono has been winning against thin air may be all right for the crowds at the bulletin boards in Rome, but the plain fact of the matter is that his unopposed advance will soon cost Mussolini far more than the whole of Ethiopia is worth.

FOOLHARDINESS

The wise ones believe also that the advance to Addis Ababa will require weeks, if not months, and that the war will not really start until Mussolini gets there. Then his lines of communications (for food) will be stretched out more than 500 miles in two directions and Haile Selassie's raiding guerrillas will really go to work on them.

In fact, the whole campaign sounds like such a foolhardy adventure that the smartest here suspect it is only a little stage prologue to get things going for a bigger drama to come in Europe.

REAR-WARFARE

It may seem strange to contend anyone here could have worthwhile knowledge of what is going on in Ethiopia, but there are some who make it their private business to know. They do not know everything, but their studied deductions are about as good as anything you can get on the subject anywhere. You may accept them as well grounded and authentic.

They see, for instance, the inside problem of De Bono. He first moved into Ethiopia twenty miles and sat down, although there was no real opposition in his front. He had to sit down in order to build roads behind him. He has built plenty of them, three distinct routes, each about 100 miles, back to his supply base at Massawa.

His further advance can progress no faster than his engineers can construct roads in his rear. Each mile he progresses means that he must drop off troops to cover these communications.

Thus, the more territory he absorbs, the more vulnerable he becomes.

STRATEGY

De Bono's line was about sixty miles long at Adwa. He had about 100,000 men on it with his colonial troops in the center, so they could be watched. His two best divisions were on the flanks. About 123,000 more covered his rear, back of the combat area.

His immediate strategy was thought to be a convergence on Makale, which would shorten his line to fifteen miles. There real stretch-out troubles will begin. These are so real and so obvious that he may decide to go no further.

The Ethiopians are also being smartly handled. No one knows for sure how many troops they have, and it does not make much difference. Their force at De Bono's front is supposed to number about 200,000, with Haile Selassie holding 50,000 in the rear around Addis Ababa.

The Ethiopians will never risk a pitched battle, if they can avoid it, probably not even at Addis Ababa. They will continue to drop back, putting obstructions in the way, harassing De Bono, gnawing at his flanks. At least this is what they will do if they make no mistakes, and they have made none so far. (Neither have the Italians, from a technical military standpoint.)

WATER

Mussolini's General Graziani, handling the southern advance, is not as highly regarded as De Bono. He is a swashbuckling type who may not be cut out for the tedious military problem confronting him. However, he started off wisely by biting off only 30 miles of Ethiopian territory before reaching for his chair. He has about 80,000 troops. Several armies are hovering in his front, waiting for him to get out of reach of drinking water in the tall grass before harassing him.

Graziani started out on the short route to cut the railroad above Harar. A very prominent military authority has said that he will never reach the railroad, even if he never encounters an opposing force. That is an exaggerated view, but his difficulties are thought to be even greater than De Bono's, in view of his smaller force and the water as well as the food problem.

FOOD

What interests military men most is the report that Mussolini is having trouble getting food for his army. He is supposed to be buying beef from two British colonies in South Africa and paying double prices for all he can get. Even so, standard-bearer. They are confident he would take a bad beating—and his backers might then be convinced at last that he can't win. This would eliminate him for future—a consumption devoutly wished by many Republican leaders.

The situation reminds a New York observer of an incident at a private meeting of GOP chiefs early in the '32 campaign. A prominent and respected leader arose and said: "There's just one reason why we should work our heads off to re-elect Hoover—if he wins he can never run for the presidency again."

VOTES

Informed New Yorkers understand that a complete reversal of AAA policy is in prospect. AAA officials have intimated that scarcity induced by war conditions will make it unnecessary to impose further crop restrictions.

Actually they intend not only to take off the brakes but to step on the gas. They have the kind of fuel available that gets results. The new AAA law contains a little-noticed provision that enables payment of bounties for INCREASED agricultural production at the administrator's option instead of merely for curtailment.

The real cause of the reversal won't be admitted in public—but it traces definitely to the rising protest of urban consumers against the high cost of eating. City slickers have voted too—and it's urban territory that will be most hotly contested next year.

SWIPED

Inside estimates indicate that federal tax revenues will come to about four and a half billion dollars this year as against a little over three billion in 1933. Much more of the increase is due to recovery than to additional levies. It's a fair deduction that the present system of taxation isn't hampering private initiative to any appreciable extent despite lusty complaints to the contrary.

New York analysts figure that total federal tax collections could go as high as $6,000,000,000 a year without seriously crippling business. They also figure a balanced budget could be achieved at that figure with even moderate economies.

Conservatives frankly expect Mr. Roosevelt to swipe the balanced budget issue for his own use. His recent announcements all point in that direction. If he does this in addition to forgetting about amendments to the Constitution it sort of leaves the Republicans tilting at windmills. Not that confirmed right wingers will believe him no matter how he commits himself—but they greatly fear a lot of moderately conservative voters will take him seriously.

BREAKDOWN

Here's an authenticated story of a German-Jewish war veteran who was wounded four times—returned to service each time after release from hospital—and received nearly every decoration his government could bestow.

He has been with a German bank since the war and is one of four Jewish veterans still retained by the bank. He cannot hope for advancement. Recently he was told to confine all communications with his associates strictly to business matters on pain of losing his job. He is not allowed to speak to his secretary—all contact is in writing. He can no longer eat in but only in a side room with the other Jews who are not permitted conversation even among themselves. If any Christian friend visits him at home both are likely to forfeit their positions. One of them risks it by the back entrance to play chess—but even so they never dare discuss politics. His only companionship is with his mother—who must stay in the house.

When he protested segregation at lunch to a director of the bank, the latter replied he was a director in name only—the bank was run from Berlin. He added that any attempt to interfere could only lead to his own resignation. This man's experience illustrates the Nazi policy of not firing Jews but of making them work under conditions that are likely to lead to a breakdown—so their jobs will be vacated through illness.

Seal Beach Sewage Plant Bids Opened Next Week

CITY COUNCIL READY TO LET NEW CONTRACT

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 18.—Bids for the proposed $62,000 municipal sewage treatment plant for Seal Beach will be opened next Thursday at an adjourned meeting of the city council, it was announced at last night's meeting.

Bids for this project, which the voters approved last March, were rejected the first time called for, and later re-advised, following a revision of the specifications for the job. Local bonds are for $40,000, with the government to give a loan and grant of $12,000.

First reading was given a new public nuisance ordinance, following its introduction by City Attorney Burr Brown.

The sum of $15 was donated to the American Legion auxiliary to help in buying a radio for the elementary school. Mrs. Dagmar Schmidt represented the auxiliary in making the request.

A letter was read from Fred J. Smith and Sidney Bartlett, local insurance agents, asking that the city give its insurance to local men. A letter from Bartlett regarding an investigation of the city's insurance stated that there were several cases of insurance overlapping. The letter was referred to the finance committee.

Sam Arvanithis applied to the city for sewer and water connections on two acres that he holds just outside the city limits on the east side of town. A. G. Johnson requested that the library be kept open one or two nights a week. The Rev. Father Patrick O'Dowd requested the installation of a street light at the coast highway and Tenth street. The requests were referred to their various committees for investigation.

WOMAN'S CLUB TOLD PAST, FUTURE OF CONSTITUTION; MRS. WAHL NEW TREASURER

BUENA PARK, Oct. 18.—Past and future aspects of the Constitution of the United States discussed from a historical viewpoint were presented at the meeting of the Woman's club Thursday afternoon at the clubhouse by Rolland Upton, superintendent of the Buena Park schools.

The constitution was declared to be a real outgrowth of American soil, a statement of legislative, executive and judicial principles gained from a background of 150 years of experience in government preceding the Revolutionary war. James Madison was credited with the authorship of the more vital ideas in the document.

"The constitution proper has withstood change and will continue to do so despite its probable position as a political football in the next presidential election," the speaker said.

Mrs. C. H. Wahl was elected treasurer in the business session preceding the program, replacing Miss Charlotte Head, who resigned. Mrs. I. D. Jaynes, Mrs. Fred Law and Mrs. R. D. Temple comprised the election board.

HOSTESSES for the November 7 meeting will be Mrs. Fred Law, Mrs. J. F. Wag, Mrs. George Cole, Mrs. T. C. Bittle and Mrs. L. D. Jaynes. Mrs. Florence Holmes of the Orange County Tuberculosis association will be the speaker with "Christmas Seals" as the subject of her talk.

E. D. Flaherty told about a resolution recently adopted by the farm bureau, which will be presented for adoption at the state federation convention to be held at Santa Cruz November 18, 19 and 21.

The resolution asks the state legislature to balance the budget by cutting down present state expenses instead of by levying new taxes.

E. M. Hall talked on the present membership drive. Frank C. Latham gave the director's report.

Under the direction of Miss Myrtle A. Martin, a number of songs were given by a group of Santa Ana junior college girls, with Miss Genevieve Eustis at the piano. Girls taking part were the Misses Mary Jane Belcher, Jean Rhinehart, Alice Compton, Marjorie McDonald, Dorothy Coe, Evelyn Morris and Dorris Asher.

WESTERN AUTO BOASTS PRICE IN CAR NEEDS

Coming at a time when motorists are equipping their cars for winter driving, the Fall Festival of Values, now in progress at the Western Auto Supply Company, is a most timely event, declares Bob Harness, local manager of the firm. He states that scores of reduced prices presented in this event mean greater savings for car owners on accessories, tires, batteries and oil.

"One of the outstanding features of the Fall Festival of Values, is the introduction of the new and more powerful Western Giant and Wizard batteries, built to meet the increased drain of winter service and extra electrical accessories the Western Auto manager asserts. With these improvements and longer life built into these batteries, Western Auto is now able to extend the guarantee on Western Giants to three full years and to two years on Wizards.

"Autos have always enjoyed full value for their money when buying these batteries, and now the longer guarantees, greater power and the special sale prices make Western Giants and Wizards unprecedented values during this event."

The current sale event is also an ideal time for automobile owners to change to a winter grade of motor oil, for special low prices will prevail as long as the event is effective. Included in this event are our three different brands of high quality oil—Penn Supreme, and Wear Well 100 per cent Pure Pennsylvania oils, and Long Run high quality Western oil.

"Economical motorists who investigate our Fall Festival of Values will not only appreciate the extra savings on tires, batteries and oil, but also those that obtain on many other automobile accessories and supplies."

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18.—Hollywood is experimenting again this time with original screen operas.

And if the experiment is successful, film producers can stop acquiring fresh crops of gray hair over the grand opera stars to whom they are paying fabulous salaries.

Frankly, these famous warblers have presented quite a problem to their studio bosses. Although they are in great demand right now, producers have been burning considerable midnight oil trying to figure out what to do with the songsters after the supply of popular operatic arias is exhausted. And that is not far off.

Original Works

A short time ago it was predicted that the solution to this problem would be found in original operas written especially for the screen. Preparations now are being rushed to try such attack with "Give Us This Night," which will go before the cameras soon, with Gladys Swarthout and Jan Klepura in the top spots.

Erich Wolfgang Korngold, noted European composer, is in Hollywood collaborating with Oscar Hammerstein II on operatic numbers for this picture. Korngold is writing the music. Hammerstein the words.

WORLD'S GREATEST DAM

COMPLETION of Boulder Dam, greatest engineering project of its kind, is marked by issuance of a new stamp picturing this huge mass of concrete holding back the Colorado River to form the world's largest artificial lake, 115 miles long and eight miles at its greatest width.

Power equaling almost the combined output of Uncle Sam's three other mighty hydro-electric plants—Niagara, Conowingo and Muscle Shoals—will come from this $165,000,000 dam. A new city, Boulder City, has arisen here, and from here will go lines, costing $23,000,000, that will carry power to Southern California, a $38,000,000 canal to Imperial Valley, and a $220,000,000 aqueduct to south California.

INTRODUCED TOMORROW

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say The New Ford V-8 for 1936?

What is new about it?

Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points"—some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in"—but, after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list.

Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery—always of sterling quality and excellent taste—is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

In more practical matters, many improvements have been made—Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5½ gallons of water through a new, larger radiator. Natural thermo-syphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears—The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes—Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof mechanical design.

Safety—as always—in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8—driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way, this 1936 Ford V-8—the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. On display tomorrow by Ford dealers.

TUGWELL SAYS M'BRIE WILL ROOSEVELT TO BE SPEAKER AT WIN NEXT YEAR LEAGUE MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—(UP) President Roosevelt unquestionably will be reelected in 1936, Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, terse-speaking-handsome. "No. 1 brain trust" of the chief executive's recovery staff, predicted today.

Tugwell, undersecretary of agriculture and chief of the federal resettlement administration, was in San Francisco for a series of conferences with regional resettlement officials at Berkeley.

As head of the resettlement administration, Tugwell has $240,000 at his disposal to push the government's great undertaking to aid farmers suffering economic strangulation on worn out, unproductive lands.

The program is designed not only to rehabilitate farmers in financial straits, but also will reclaim thousands of acres of worn over-crowded farm, grazing and timber lands by forbidding or limiting their use at least until they have returned to normal productivity.

Tugwell said he has approximately a quarter-billion dollars, rather than the often-reported half billion, to spend for the year's resettlement work.

"Retire Farms" "Nine or 10 million acres of the very worst land in the United States will be retired from farming," he explained. "That is an area as large as Massachusetts and New Jersey combined."

"It will take two years, instead of one to go that far," he explained. "Planning, takes time. This year we expect to move 20,000 farm families who are stranded and nearly starving in the dust bowl area, dry lands and forest denuded areas."

"By purchasing their indigent farms, the government will give the families the opportunity to move to better lands. The waste lands will be converted into forest, grazing or recreational areas."

Tugwell declined to dramatize the epochal government-sponsored farm migration. He said the farmers would not be moved great distances. No colonization project is contemplated in California, he revealed, explaining that California's problem of stranded farmers appears negligible by comparison to less productive states.

Veering to the forthcoming presidential campaign, he was asked whether President Roosevelt would be reelected.

"No question of that," he reported.

The recovery program is working fine, wherever I have been," he reported.

Tugwell and a party of three Washington assistants arrived here after a long overland automobile trip from Mexico City. The new international highway, he said, should do much to "open up a great deal of travel and cement good will" between the United States and Mexico.

The meeting will be combined with a called session of the executive board, announced by Mrs. James Zoeter, president, to consider ways and means. Among the plans to be suggested and acted upon by the board is the proposal to hold motion picture shows with school equipment, according to Superintendent J. H. McGaugh, who will outline possibilities. The school owns a projector and screen which may be used in the new auditorium, but a special committee from the P.-T. A. will have to be appointed to manage the programs. Tea will be served.

BEACH P.-T. A. TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN FOR NEW MEMBERS

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 18.—Specific plans for an intensive membership campaign in the Seal Beach Parent-Teacher association will be presented to room mothers by the membership chairman, Mrs. J. N. Scott, at a called meeting Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the domestic science room of the new school.

LINDSEY SEEKING JOUVENILE BENCH

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—(UP)—Judge Ben B. Lindsey, who has been presiding in civil court since his election to the superior bench last November, wants to return to his first love—juvenile court.

He minced no words today in attacking bluntly for the juvenile post being vacated by the retirement of Judge Samuel R. Blake. The appointment is slated to be made at a caucus of superior court judges next Monday night.

Lindsey, who became famous as J. L. McBride, city engineer of Santa Ana will be the principal speaker at the Thursday meeting. He will talk on the progress being made at the sewage reclamation testing plant near Bolsa.

George Bates, city engineer at Placentia talked on the subject last night before the committee.

In a letter to his colleagues, he wrote:

"You can readily appreciate your decision not to place me in the department would lead the electorate to question why my 20 years of experience in juvenile court work is not being utilized."

S. Lucas appeared before the committee to ask that a business census be taken of the city and county but the proposition was tabled by the committee for the lack of funds for such a survey.

Some discussion was made of the proposed horseshoe tournament planned at Newport Beach to start on November 2, when the 13 mayors of the city together with a councilman from each city compete for prizes. The board of supervisors also will be allowed to enter the tournament together with a representative of each of the daily newspapers of Orange county. A total of 32 persons will be in the meet, plans calling for three Saturdays of competition with the finals on the third Saturday to be followed by a big meeting and a dinner for the winner.

The meeting next Thursday night will be held at the Aquarium cafe, in San Clemente, it was announced at 6:30 p.m.

TWO FIRES FOUGHT IN S. A. YESTERDAY

Two fires broke out in Santa Ana yesterday, both being brought under control in record time.

Firemen were called to the home of Mayor Morales, 1016 East Walnut street at 7:23 p.m. yesterday when a spark caught in a hay stack and fanned by a stiff desert wind spread to an adjoining house. The damage was $25 to the building and approximately $150 to the hay, it was reported.

A small fire was discovered in the apartment of Dolores Durango, in the Musselman court, 2002 West Fifth street at 3:23 p.m. yesterday. The loss was estimated at $5 to the building.

The party plans to remain here several days.

STANDARD OIL IS SHIPPED TO ITALY

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 18.—(UP) Ten-year-old Jacqueline Brown needed only to stumble into the actual robber today to make her solution of the Roosevelt hotel robbery complete.

Yesterday, playing near her home, Jacqueline found a gun. She took it to her father James Brown, who turned it over to the police. Authorities said it was the gun used in the hotel holdup last week.

Today Jacqueline went out to play again. She stumbled across a money bag containing $33.40. She took it to her father. Her father took it to the police.

Police held the money pending further investigation.

Gray was denied a new trial by Superior Judge Homer G. Ames this afternoon.

Mrs. L. G. Coleman made a short talk, stating that a survey is being conducted of children of the county to determine their choices of radio programs.

CASE AGAINST C. M'LAUCHLAN IS DISMISSED

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 18.—(UP)—Addressess by James A. Van Zandt, national commander, and Gov. Frank F. Merriam will feature a two-day program in honor of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the California exposition tomorrow and Sunday.

Criminal syndicalism charges against Charles McLauchlan, 27, Santa Ana communist, were dropped by the district attorney's office today, a motion for dismissal being granted by Superior Judge A. Caminetto Jr., who ordered McLauchlan's $500 bail exonerated.

Lack of evidence to support the charge made against McLauchlan by Santa Ana police after they had arrested him September 17 while he was allegedly distributing pamphlets inciting violence and overthrow of the government, was reported to be the reason for dismissing the charge today.

Three counts of criminal syndicalism had been brought against McLauchlan. One alleged membership in an organization having as its purpose the overthrow of the government by force and violence. A second charge accused him of advocating and teaching criminal syndicalism. The third count was based on the alleged distribution of pamphlets.

R. R. Seacord, a member of the Tustin grammar school board, has submitted his resignation to Ray Atkinson, county superintendent of schools. Atkinson is expected to name his successor within the next few days.

Seacord in a statement today said that he became a candidate for the board two years ago in order to further a program of physical education at the school. Since this program as well as building operations at the school have been carried to a successful conclusion, he said he felt he had accomplished his purpose on the board.

Members of the committee are J. P. Baumgartner, chairman; A. J. Mellenthin, Harold Wildman, Ellis Diehl, Allison Homer, Plummer Bruns and Sidney L. Boucher.

At the request of the committee, George Newcomb, business manager for the board of education, will accompany the committee on the investigation tour tomorrow.

The other two members of the board are J. J. Woodward and Walter West.

COAST PREP LEAGUE INCUBATOR FOR FOOTBALL STARS

Long regarded as the most pow'ro to start something, I've picked two original athletic alliance in the South - all-time Coast league teams, first and second. There is no assurance the first could whip the second. Any Pacific Coast conference coach would commit harl-kari for this material in the raw:

SECOND TEAM
Ends—Lowry McCaslin, Whittier; Tom Hines, Santa Ana.
Tackles—Lawrence Lutz, Santa Ana; Bob Carlton, Long Beach.
Guards—Ray Hulen, Long Beach; Charles Baker, Long Beach.
Center—George Young, Santa Ana.
Quarter—Orv Mohler, Alhambra.
Halfbacks—Don Williams, Santa Ana; Floyd Blower, Santa Ana.
Fullback—Morley Drury, Long Beach.

Four high schools composed the original conference as it was organized by Long Beach, Santa Ana, San Diego and Pasadena in 1928. Four are members now. Long Beach, Santa Ana and San Diego have stuck with the ship through the years. Pasadena lasted until this fall. Alhambra came along in 1925 and has been going strong ever since.

Progressive administrators founded the league, and the same type of men has conducted its affairs right on down. Organized because of peculiar geographical and population problems which made them virtual outlaws in their own region. Coast league schools have bashed shoulder to shoulder all the way. They still feel that way, stand ready to fight it out with the CIF itself if necessary.

When the "Big Four" first assembled, they called their conference the TNT league. It wasn't a bad name either, but later it was designated the Tri-County, eventually the Coast Preparatory. Often it is referred to as simply the Coast league. The pioneer coaches were Ed Covington, Santa Ana; John Perry, San Diego; Russell Sprong, Long Beach, and Frank Baker, Pasadena.

The makeup has changed from year to year. At one time or another such schools as Fullerton, Compton, Woodrow Wilson, Glendale, Whittier, and South Pasadena were affiliated. Keen competition scared out some transportation (financial) problems drove out others.

One of its earliest struggles was to reduce from 15 to 12 minutes the time of quarters in high school football. This rule is now national in scope.

Later it experimented with a scheme to eliminate the games through a five-down playoff. Harry J. Moore of Long Beach originated it, and his plan was tried at many spots in the country. If a contest ended in a tie, the ball was taken to the 50-yard line. A coin was flipped and the winner of the toss got the ball for one down. Then the other club had it for one play. They alternated possession of the pigskin five times. The side that made the most progress won the ball game, getting credit for a safety. The "system" once cost Santa Ana a game with San Diego because the Hillers advanced two inches into Saint territory.

Coast leaguers are up to new tricks this year. They have virtually broken with the governing body, the C. I. F., in order to promote a round-robin tournament. They will not enter their champion in the Southern California playoffs. Maybe the tourney will be a flop. I rather think so. But you got to give 'em credit for the old college try. Nothing tried, nothing gained.

Indictive of the power of the Coast league are CIF football records. Eight times in the past 12 seasons has the Coast league champion captured the Southern California title as well. Long Beach started it the first year, 1928. Glendale, which entered in '24, was next. Fullerton broke through in '28, Alhambra in '29, Long Beach in '29 and '30, Santa Ana in '31. Long Beach in '34.

Don't think for a minute that a mighty football machine couldn't be collected out of the Coast loop. Just

TROJAN-BRUI GRID TILT IN '36 LIKELY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Resumption of football rivalry between U. S. C. and U. C. L. A. in 1936 was regarded as highly possible here today.

Football relations were broken off in 1930, after the Trojans crushed the Bruins 56 to 0.

A resumption of play was suggested editorially by Tom Lawless, editor of the Daily Trojan, a student publication, and was greeted enthusiastically by students of both schools.

William C. Ackerman, Bruin graduate manager, lent a semi-official air to the chorus of approval when he said:

"U. C. L. A. would welcome a game. We'll meet them anywhere at any time. We have felt for some time that it would be a 'natural' and that Southern California football fans were entitled to see the two schools meet on the gridiron."

Even a convenient date—Thanksgiving Day—has been suggested.

'ALABAMA' PITTS TO TOUR U. S. AS CAGER

OSSINING, N. Y., Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Edwin C. (Alabama) Pitts, former Sing prison gridiron star, plans to organize a basketball team and tour the United States.

Pitts announced that idea yesterday after a brief visit with Ward Lewis Lawes before returning to his home in Opelika, Ala.

Dean Disdains $40 Gate, Quits Ball Park

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Oct. 18.—(UPI)—"Dizzy" Dean is no $40 pitcher and he didn't mince words telling Joe Engel about it.

"Dizzy," on a barnstorming tour to pick up a few dollars over the "meager stipend" Sam Breeden of the St. Louis Cards pays him, was booked for a one-night stand in Chattanooga. When he saw the size of the crowd and learned that $40 was to be his end of the purse, he flatly refused to play.

"I wouldn't even walk out on the field for $40," Dizey said.

Diz packed up and left for a personal appearance engagement in New Orleans to-day.

Engel, who had to return $30 cash admissions, sent a protest immediately to K. M. Landis, baseball's czar, demanding action.

Coming after the thrilling Cor-

Rivalry on the chalk-ribbed turf since 1911, Santa Ana and Long Beach high school football teams clash at Long Beach tomorrow in the first game of the Coast Preparatory league's 1935 season. Beginning at 2:30, the contest will be preceded by a Class B preliminary at 12 o'clock.

Both teams use the Notre Dame system, both come up to the inaugural with better than average records, both have been carefully selected so the outcome is considered a toss-up.

Long Beach has a little more heat, especially on the ends. Santa Ana has more speed and a dazzling passing attack that will be uncovered, for the first time against Coach Orian Landreth's defending champions. It is the Saints' aerial circus that leads Coach Bill Foote, who was almost psychic at predicting scores as "Tex" Oliver's scout, to flatly prophecy a Santa Ana victory, two touchdowns to one.

Already handicapped by the loss of Quarterback Mac Beall and Guard Lyle Moyer through injuries, the Saint cause was jeopardized late yesterday by an injury to Norman Garrett, who has been doing a good job at Moyer's spot. Garrett's ankle was badly lacerated during line scrimmage but the squad's physician said Garrett probably would be able to start barring complications. If not, Ferris Wall, 188-pound sophomore, will get the call, with "Buff" Harwood spelling Wall.

Coach Foote is set on the rest of his lineup, with Harold Tucker replacing the injured Mac Beall at quarterback, Carroll Joy and "Whitney" Mann at left and right half, and Billy Musick at full-half.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Walter Hagen, the hardy old perennial who called on all his experience to take the qualifying medal and become the only one of 113 professionals to beat par yesterday, faltered today and passed from the National P. G. A. picture.

Hagen lost to Johnny Revolta, the Milwaukee star, one up.

Both posted 72's, two over par.

Paul Runyan started defense of his title with a 5 and 3 victory over Louis Chiappetta of Jackson, Mich.

WALTER HAGEN DUSTED FROM P.G.A. TOURNAMENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—(UPI)—Odds for Saturday's major games as quoted today by Bryan and company, betting commissioners, follow:

ARMY 2 1-2 to 1 over Harvard.

Pennsylvania 6 to 5 over Columbia.

Purdue 8 to 5 over Chicago.

California 8 to 5 over Santa Clara.

The following are 2 to 3, take your pick: Vanderbilt-Fordham; Pittsburgh - Notre Dame; Yale-Navy.

GIRDIRON BRIEFS

LOS ANGELES—U.S.C.'s chances against Oregon State in a Coast conference meeting Saturday picked up considerably today with the return to the squad of Davie Davis, regular quarterback who missed the Illinois game because of injuries. Davis and Fred Lyons, another veteran, will be Howard Jones' quarterback-fullback combination in the O. S. C. game.

Since the Saints are a cinch to intermingle passes with Musick's off-tackle reverses, the men Long Beach must watch are Joy, Mann and Ralph Blower. The latter has seen almost no action because of a sprained foot yet he is almost as deadly a bomber as his big brother Floyd, now starring at California. Joy, being a runner as well as thrower, is doubly dangerous. Mann, a southpaw, means additional trouble to the Jackrabbits' secondary.

Other schools, notably Fresno, Wilson and Santa Barbara, found Long Beach vulnerable to smart passing. Fresno completed pass after pass, one for a touchdown. So did Wilson. It is believed shortly that Foote will open wide his attack on the premise that the rambunctious Long Beach tackles and experienced ends will be too hard to crack all afternoon.

Since Long Beach has passed its way to five touchdowns in four games, the Hares also are likely to go to the air early.

They will find Santa Ana's hulky line tougher than anything they've faced this season, and Landreth has never been a coach to fiddle around with a concrete wall against him, especially when he has good passers and the best receiver in the league in Bruce Wilcox, left end.

Tomorrow's other Coast league encounter brings San Diego up from the Exposition city to play Alhambra. The schedule:

Oct. 26—Santa Ana at Long Beach;

Oct. 26—Long Beach at Long Beach;

Santa Ana, San Diego and Alhambra, open.

Nov. 2—Fullerton at Santa Ana; Alhambra at Glendale; San Diego at Phoenix, Ariz.

Nov. 9—Fullerton at Santa Ana; Whittier at Alhambra; Long Beach at San Diego.

Nov. 16—Long Beach at Santa Ana; Alhambra at Long Beach.

Nov. 22—Santa Ana at Pomona.

Nov. 23—San Diego at Hoover, Glendale; Long Beach and Alhambra, open.

Nov. 28—South Pasadena at Alhambra.

Nov. 30—Long Beach at San Diego.

JURE, CORDOZA WIN THRILLING FEATHER BOUTS

In the feature of a seven-round card, that matched for ferocity and swooping speed the hunting desert wind that all but uprooted the arena, speedy Everett Jure of Ontario hung a four-round decision on the chin of Anaheim's two-fisted Don Benson last night at the Orange County Athletic club arena.

The battle shared honors with a cyclonic rematch between Lupe Cordoza, fighting Basque from Pomona, and "Tiger" George, Los Angeles Negro. Cordoza managed to romp out in front, due mainly to a terrific left hand attack in the fourth round which dumped the dusky lad for a nine count.

The victory swung to Jure in the fifth round when Benson threw caution to the winds, forgot to box, plunged in with both hands flailing to meet a cool counter-attack that forced him to give ground. In the final round Benson pushed up a last-hope flurry that stopped short of the mark. The decision was unanimous.

THE TINYMATES

Story by HAL COCHRAN Pictures by GEORGE SCARBO

The little calf that Goldy found was full of food. It made a sound that brought smiles to the Tinies' faces. Then it swished its tail.

"It eats out of a bottle now," the owner said, "but, soon, somehow, I'm going to teach it how to take its food out of a pail."

"Now, little tots, I think it best to let my pet calf have a rest. Please lead it to the shed and I will fix a bed of straw."

"I fed it, so I'll lead, it, too," said Goldy. "Say, when we are through, you'll see the cutest sight that any of you ever saw."

The whole bunch gathered in the shed and when the calf was put to bed, kind Scouty whispered, "Now, let's leave, and let the wee calf snooze."

When everyone had stepped outside, "Two tots are missing," Dotty cried. "Perhaps they're lost. Let's look for them. We have no time to lose."

Their farmer friend said, "Nope! You're wrong. Right here is where you all belong. I sent we-

DISABLED VETS TO CAMPAIGN FOR BENEFITS

G. Bert Allen, state leader of the Disabled American Veterans organization was accorded an extremely warm reception when he made his official visit to the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, at the F. C. hall Wednesday evening, when over 250 assembled to hear his inspirational and educational address on the "Second Phase of the Economy Act," it was announced today by Commander Van Leonard Brown.

State Commander Allen prefaced his talk with a brief resume of the plan of action inaugurated by the Department of California, D. A. V., in the months preceding and following the Economy Act of March 1933 in advising the public as well as the members of Congress, through newspaper publicity and radio talks, of the injustices inflicted by citing actual cases of abuse throughout the length and breadth of the country.

Questions Raised

"Why is it the public today believes that all benefits have been restored to the service-connected veteran; why are presumptive cases, acknowledged by the government to be service-connected in fact, only receiving 75 per cent of their award; why are only 1707 widows out of over 37,000 eligible receiving pensions granted under an Act of Congress passed one and half years ago?" Allen queried. "These are the things that we are going to find out, present proof and demand correction of all inequalities and injustices inflicted on an unsuspecting public by interpretations issued by the Veterans Administration of the laws passed by Congress," Allen continued.

"The plan of the California Department D. A. V., now being inaugurated, is to create boards, consisting of leading veterans and at least one lay member, in every city and town in the state, to study cases where injustices are being inflicted," Commander Allen pointed out. "These boards will review all evidence and examine the veterans. Department officers will assemble all cases at Los Angeles and San Francisco for the entire state, segregate into classes of disabilities and present their findings to Congress for correction of all inequalities," he stated.

Seeks "Square Deal"
"These boards will be instructed so that their decisions will insure a square deal both to the veteran and the taxpayer," Allen emphasized. "I am sure that Jack Fisher chapter, as they have always in the past, cooperate with the Department in this program in behalf of our disabled comrades, widows and dependents, remembering that the foundation of the D. A. V. organization is built entirely on this platform," Allen concluded.

V. L. Brown, chapter commander, presided over the meeting and introduced Dr. F. E. Lenahan, Los Angeles, State Surgeon; Earl S. Spencer, Long Beach; Seventh District Commander; and Thomas W. Halliwell, commander of Orange County Post, Canadian Legion. Large delegations from Los Angeles and Long Beach were headed by Paul Cray and Hugo Frey respectively.

Entertainment
Dear Laub, entertainment chairman, presented Helen Messenger and Harold Jessie, Costa Mesa, in harmony duets with guitar accompaniment while H. C. Ahrendt, accompanied by Mrs. Ahrendt, rendered several violin solos. These artists responded with encores to the vociferous applause of the assemblage.

Jack Fisher chapter accepted the invitation to attend services at the Church of the Messiah on Armistice Sunday and they will visit San Fernando hospital on November 3.

Following the meeting was a social hour featured by the serving of refreshments.

PRENDERGAST FINDS GREAT DESERT BOOM

A trip through the desert country is a revelation to those who have not visited Palm Springs, Twenty-nine Palms and other resorts in the past few months, according to J. G. Prendergast, well known Chicago contractor who passed through Santa Ana today. Mr. Prendergast is looking over Southern California with a view to embarking on a building program such as he carried on in Florida some years ago.

He said "I have visited California for a few weeks each fall and winter. The man who is engaged in development undertakings needs a change once in awhile. Two years ago I spent a month in and around Twenty-nine Palms. It was a plain frontier desert town surrounded by snow capped mountains; there were two small hotels and a number of residents scattered over the valley."

Finds Progress Made
"Last week I journeyed to Twenty-nine Palms over very much improved roads and found a real development program being carried on; one subdivider has graded many miles of street, developed water where there was no water before, in great quantities, and several homes are being built now; a new hotel has been built since I was there, and pavement has been laid for several miles right in the little village."

"Usually at this time of the year in the desert things are dead but at Palm Springs and Twenty-nine Palms things are going full blast. A business district is being

FREAK FIVE-LEGGED FROG

"Frenchie," freak five-legged bull frog, which is displayed below by Edna Wilson, has attracted considerable interest among zoology students at the Santa Ana Junior college and also among those persons who can see a marked advantage, from a culinary viewpoint, of a frog with five legs. Miss Wilson, head of the jaysee news service, by the way, didn't enjoy holding the slippery amphibian as much as it appears in the picture.

FIVE-LEGGED FROG FOUND IN SHIPMENT AT JUNIOR COLLEGE

Lovers of that famous Southern delicacy, frog legs, at Santa Ana Junior college were today eyeing with particular interest the acquisition of "Frenchie," a huge, freakish, five-legged bull frog which is proving an attraction in the zoology laboratory at the college.

The unusual phenomenon, which is very much alive, was secured by Instructor J. Russells Bruff, head of the junior college science department. The frog arrived in Santa Ana with a shipment of two dozen frogs from a dealer in biological supplies in San Francisco. It is believed to have been captured in the marshes along the Sacramento river.

"Frenchie" is a fully matured frog and is about one and one-half to two years old, according to Mr. Bruff. The fifth leg is articulated into the front of the pelvic girdle. The amphibian has no use of the extra leg and the foot has been worn off by rubbing it in moving about.

About two dozen frogs are purchased bi-weekly for use in the zoology and physiology classes.

Other freaks in the laboratory include a dog with five feet and a six-toed cat. Both animals were born in Santa Ana and were secured from the city pound and killed there. The extra foot of the dog is a rudiment of a leg growing from the wrist bone of a front leg. The animal will be dissected for use in the physiology classes under the direction of Frederick H. Schroeder, instructor.

Cats with six or seven toes are very common in Santa Ana and they are not freaks but an inherited trait, according to Bruff.

Established and the hotels were of fair size is being built and drug store will be constructed at once. The residents all brag about their great water supply. Ole Hanson, who is well known all over America as the builder of San Clemente, apparently has a definite plan of development for Twenty-nine Palms. He said to me at Twenty-nine Palms: "This valley has the one-mile elevation, wonderful sunshine, plenty of water and a good start. We believe it will duplicate the performance of Palm Springs and because of our architectural restrictions will perhaps develop more beautifully."

Mr. Prendergast says that business is getting better wherever he has been and that real estate shows marked signs of a recovery.

At Palm Springs at least 125 homes are being built. At Twenty-nine Palms more than 40 homes are either under construction or about to start. A restaurant is being built and the hotel is being comfortably filled.

ANDERSON GOING TO CANADA FOR BRIDE

Ray M. Anderson, co-owner of the Walker's Produce company in the Empire market, left this afternoon for Simcoe, Ontario, Can., where he will be married about October 28, to a girl he met here a year and a half ago, when she came out to visit the family of his partner.

She is Miss Mildred Pettigrew of Simcoe, who will enter the Walker family in 1933.

Anderson went by train from here to Detroit, where he will purchase a new automobile, driving it from Detroit into Canada. He and his bride expect to return here about November 15, after a honeymoon through middle western states.

Bicycle Riders Struck by Auto

Two youths, riding on one bicycle, were slightly injured at 7:30 Wednesday night at First and Cypress streets, when they were knocked off the bicycle by an automobile, according to a report filed with the police department.

The boys were Percy Ladd, of 409 East Pine street and Bob Bruce, of 512 Cypress street. Their injuries consisted of minor cuts and bruises.

The automobile was being driven by John W. Swann, 22, of 215 North Baker street, who filed a report.

Reports of delegates to the annual convention of the California Bar association in San Francisco, and a recital of unusual courtroom experiences by Arthur E. Bagley, veteran Los Angeles court reporter, are scheduled as program features at the monthly meeting of the Orange County Bar association in James' cafe here this evening. It is a dinner meeting, set for 6:30 p. m.

William Bollinger, 40, of 2020 South Kilson Drive, who finished a jail sentence in the Riverside county jail Wednesday on a petty theft charge, was re-arrested at the jail door and brought to the Orange county jail by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who booked him on a charge of grand theft.

He is wanted here on a charge of stealing an automobile, worth $25, it was reported. The complaining witness in the case is W. J. Purher, used car dealer here.

Taken before Justice Kenneth Morrison, Bollinger's hearing was set for October 29, at 9 a. m.

Three lines of new Pontiac models for 1936, the straight eight, six and de luxe six, are being shown at the Reid Motor Company showrooms at Fifth and Spurgeon streets, according to an announcement made today by W. R. "Stormy" Gordon, salesman.

The "silver streak" radiator and hood grille that formed the central design motif of 1935 and earned for Pontiac the descriptive characterization of the "most beautiful thing on wheels," continues as the basic theme with certain pleasing changes that reflect even greater refinement of taste and more artistic beauty than was expressed in the original.

Improvements included in the 1936 line are available in six body styles each, while seven are mounted on the six chassis. Common to all lines are two-door and four-door touring sedans (with built-in trunk), all accommodating five passengers; the standard coupe for two passengers and the sport coupe for four passengers. The cabriolet built for four passengers is also available on the six chassis.

Three lines of new Pontiac models for 1936, the straight eight, six and de luxe six, are being shown at the Reid Motor Company showrooms at Fifth and Spurgeon streets, according to an announcement made today by W. R. "Stormy" Gordon, salesman.

The "silver streak" radiator and hood grille that formed the central design motif of 1935 and earned for Pontiac the descriptive characterization of the "most beautiful thing on wheels," continues as the basic theme with certain pleasing changes that reflect even greater refinement of taste and more artistic beauty than was expressed in the original.

Improvements included in the 1936 line are available in six body styles each, while seven are mounted on the six chassis. Common to all lines are two-door and four-door touring sedans (with built-in trunk), all accommodating five passengers; the standard coupe for two passengers and the sport coupe for four passengers. The cabriolet built for four passengers is also available on the six chassis.

William Bollinger, 40, of 2020 South Kilson Drive, who finished a jail sentence in the Riverside county jail Wednesday on a petty theft charge, was re-arrested at the jail door and brought to the Orange county jail by Sheriff Logan Jackson, who booked him on a charge of grand theft.

He is wanted here on a charge of stealing an automobile, worth $25, it was reported. The complaining witness in the case is W. J. Purher, used car dealer here.

B. P. W. Fall Conclave Comes At Week-End In Our Village

Renewal Of Friendships Brightens S. A. Visit Of Mrs. Brown

Many friendships of long standing are being renewed this week during the visit in this city of Mrs. Ada Brown, now of Ontario, who has been spending several days with her niece, Mrs. Marguerite West Hill of El Patio apartments, North Broadway, and will complete the week with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin G. West, 321 East Santa Clara avenue.

Yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Edmund West joined with her aunt, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, in giving a very informal tea in the Stephenson home, 1522 North Broadway, Mrs. Brown was afforded opportunity to meet a number whom she had not yet seen during her stay.

It was a delightfully intimate afternoon, for which such friends as could be contacted by telephone, were bidden to chat over the teacups. The Stephenson gardens yielded pompon dahlias in charmingly varied colors, to be used in various artistic clusters. At the tea hour, Mrs. Stephenson had the assistance of another niece, Miss Elizabeth Hart, in serving the dainties which she and Mrs. West had planned.

A forum on program building will be conducted in the sun room by Mrs. Weber, followed by individual round table groups in various board rooms. Among Santa Ana clubwomen to have charge of round tables will be Mrs. Mabel Spizzy, district chairman of music, and Miss Genevieve Humiston, district chairman of public relations.

Mrs. Margaret Elliott of Fullerton, president of Orange county federation, and the various units of her group will be hostesses to the district clubwomen. Clubwomen will be interested in knowing that "The Town Crier," little paper circulated in "Our Village," is issuing a special conclave edition containing all program events, to serve as unique souvenirs for club members.

Sunday luncheon will bring the conclave to a close, and again Santa Ana club will take prominence. Mrs. John A. Tessman (Jen Lashy Tessmann) will be speaker on the international theme of "Our Troublesome Neighbors."

Santa Ana members who will attend include Alma Karlsson, Damaris Beeman, Blanche Brown, Lulu Finley, Marie Fowler, Lorraine French, Dora Glines, Genevieve Humiston, Louise Kaiser, Mary Hilliard, Laura McNaught, Jeanette McFadden, Clara Morley, Lulu Ott, Mabel Spizzy, Jennie Tessimann, Lena Thomas, Emma Van Deusen, Ella Vizie, Harriet Whidden and Martha Whitton.

MISSING MOMENTS

Key missing! Nothing can take the place of a key when the doors and windows are locked and there's nobody to let you in.

WATCH your taste when you drink coffee. If your taste flutters at each sip, that's a sign something is missing in the flavor of that coffee.

Nothing can take the place of flavor in coffee. And the reason your search for delicious, unvarying flavor is often futile, is because the coffee you use is "off" in the blend, roast, grind or pack. When this is the case, all the care you take in making the coffee won't produce the results you want.

The thing to do is change to Hills Bros. Coffee. It is a never-changing BLEND of the finest coffees grown. This blend is roasted by an exclusive process—CONTROLLED ROASTING—that insures uniform flavor in every pound. This rich, matchless flavor is completely protected by Hills Bros. VACUUM PACK. And the GRIND of Hills Bros. Coffee gives perfect results in any coffee-making utensil.

The delegates chosen are Miss Dorothy Coe, president of A. W. S.; Miss Mary Paxton, cabinet member; Miss Betty Lee, Women's Athletic association president, and the Misses Marion Matson and Doris Flippin.

First Congregational

Mrs. Alan A. Revill and Mrs. J. E. Paul provided a delightful program for a meeting of First Congregational Women's Union World Study department Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. Paul's home, Main street, Tustin.

Mrs. Revill told of her summer travels through England. Mrs. Paul devoted her talk to flowers, shrubs and trees which have been brought to American gardens from all parts of the world. It was brought out that many of the plants had been introduced into this country by missionaries. Fourteen countries were represented by plants from Mrs. Paul's home gardens.

The party, attended by about 30 women all together, was held in the home of Miss Esther Heemstra. The house was decorated by the hostess in the glowing colors of autumn which rivaled the formal gowns of the guests in gaiety.

After an evening of entertainment built on the theme of exploration through the efforts of Miss Phyllis Hannah, president of the organization, refreshments were served by the Misses Betty Hart, Elizabeth Wassum and Betty Ryard. During the serving, tiny nautical favors were given to the guests as reminders of Columbus day.

The invitations, written on flashing green paper and warning the guests to come prepared for exploitation, were planned by the Misses Edna Wilson and Melva Thorpe. Transportation for the rushes was directed by Miss Ruth Stutsman.

Among the guests were numbered Miss Mabel G. Whiting and Miss Lucinia Griffith, faculty sponsors of the group.

"I'm through mixing 'maybe' into my cake batter!"

SAYS MRS. K. J. TOBIN, OF BEVERLY HILLS, ILL.

There's a new low price on Calumet and a big, new 10¢ can!

"WHAT'S THE SENSE
in taking chances with second-best when you can get a good, big can of Calumet for a dime?"
asks Mrs. Tobin.

"I've never had a baking failure with Calumet," Mrs. Tobin said. And judging by the expectant looks on the faces of her youngsters—Richard and Patricia—Mrs. Tobin is not the only member of her family who knows how delicious Calumet cakes always are!

WHY DOES CALUMET give such astonishing "baking luck"? Why do you have to use only one level teaspoonful of Calumet to a cup of sifted flour in most recipes? Why is Calumet different from other baking powders?

It's because of the way Calumet combines two distinct leavening actions. A quick action for the mixing bowl—set free by liquid. A slower action for the oven—set free by heat.

Calumet's double action is so perfectly balanced and controlled that it produces perfect leavening—every time. A product of General Foods.

MRS. TOBIN'S CALUMET CARAMEL CAKE
(3 eggs)

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening

1 cup sugar
6 eggs, well beaten
6 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift four once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together 3 times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth; add flavoring. Beat until well mixed. Spread batter in a greased 9x13x3 pan. Bake 25 minutes, or until done. Spread caramel frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Double recipe to make three 10-inch layers. Sprinkle chopped nuts on sides, if desired.

(All measurements are level.)

AND LOOK AT THE NEW CAN! A simple twist... and the Easy-Off Top lifts off.
No delay, no spilling, no broken finger-nails!

All Calumet prices are lower!

Calumet is now selling at the lowest prices in its history... The regular price of the Full-Pound Can is now only 25¢! And be sure to see the new, big 10¢ can—a lot of good baking for a dime—with Calumet, the Double-Acting Baking Powder.

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardosa Sloan, Corona Del Mar
Sharing sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for Orange County gardens.

PLANTS WITH FERN FOLIAGE tipped with creamy yellow is the Bleeding Heart—a flower familiar little Elder wild flower. Its pink, sprays of flowers hang down from the bushes, or toward the ground. The western Dutchman's breeches, Dicentra formosa, is a tiny, pale green, with a cluster of soft pink flowers hanging down from the stems. It is charming in the rock garden, but because of its spreading habit must be carefully kept within bounds. It makes an excellent ground cover combined with ferns.

Another most lovely Dicentra is the Sweet Scented Dicentra, which the delicate foliage is silvery and the flowers are cream tipped with purple. It blooms over a long season.

If Dutchman's breeches is Bleeding Heart's brother, then Bleeding Heart's sister is a fine, lacy, pink-flowered, garden variety.

She's a very sentimental flower.

She poses like an actress.

Who is listening to her lover?

It's funny when you know.

That's when Dicentra is her brother.

I really cannot let that pass without coming to the conclusion that it is difficult to believe that Mr. Correllers could be so blind to Bleeding Heart's true nature, and that he would let it bloom over a fatty long period, and is most pleasant in cutting.

COLUMBINE—Call them Aquilegia if you want to, but it seems a pity to grow so long a stem with a tiny columbine at the top.

The Columbine is a garden plant that has more points of excellence than the Columbine.

It is hardy, grows with ease, the foliage is silvery, and the flowers are pink.

It blooms over a fatty long period, and is most pleasant in cutting.

As for Bleeding Heart, most of us have had a bleeding heart one time in our life, and we all know what one bleeding heart means.

This poor flower has whole rows of them in her youth; she is grace itself, dainty and modest, and a real angel.

She has a happy spirit, as she delicate, lacy flowers sit lightly on the spring breeze. When her blossoms are gone, the bleeding heart is, it may wonder that she drops pensively? But not in sickly sentimentality, no, never, in sorrow, pain, and humility, and in patient resignation.

Most of us who have known Dicentra in its home in Eastern gardens, where it is a bold, airy, any hardy border, growing luxuriantly in shady places, have noticed the result of its efforts to cover the ground. The flowers from this lovely plant in Southern California, many have tried, but few have succeeded, giving the fact that some breeders have attained to the successful growing of Bleeding Heart should encourage the rest of us to do more attention to this flower.

Give this plant shade, a well drained soil, light but rich, and there will be a good crop, and used as a mulch). The Plant goes down quickly after blooming; do not try to pull it up, however, this is its habit. It is well, therefore, to place it where some neighboring plants can spread over it, otherwise it will be all three.

Our poet of "These Bleeding Friends" says that—"She would not decide what she would like to be."

She started out as maiden-hair and then she thought that she would be a good little bird,

And then she thought that she would be a bell."

At last she tried to be all three—

Success very soon followed.

The blossoms were partial shade.

The species will do very well in a heavy soil but the hybrids require a soil rich in humus.

RHYTHM TUNES NEWEST TUNES TO BE HEARD TONIGHT AND CONTRASTS ARE FEATURED

Two rhythm tunes from recent musical shows, a new tango and one of the most popular of Carrie Jacobs Bond's compositions will be featured in tonight's presentation of "Musical Moments with Tommy McLaughlin" on KREG at 7 o'clock.

"How's Chances" from "As Thousands Cheer," and the tango "Yira Yira" will be offered by Victor Arden's popular orchestra. The popular young baritone will sing the contrasting but delightful songs: "Isn't This a Lovely Day" from "Top Hat" and "A Perfect Day" by the noted southern California composer.

It was stated that this feature program, as presented thrice weekly by the Chevrolet Motor company, weekly, offers such a variety of musical types that it is popularly received by a large audience.

STORY OF ICE AGE TO BE BROADCAST

"The Ice Age and Modern Glaciers" will be discussed in another of the "Natural Sciences in the National Parks and Monuments" series, to be broadcast from KREG tomorrow morning at 11:30.

The amazing changes in climate and topography of the earth's surface caused by glacial action and several accounts of the action of existing glaciers to be found in the national parks and elsewhere on the North American continent will be given. "Many of the forces which shaped our plant into its present, habitable form and conditions may only be deduced and dimly imagined; but the facts relating to the technique of the ice age are still here for us to read," it was stated.

This series of broadcasts, made under the auspices of the U. S. Department of the Interior, National Park Service, is scheduled daily except Sunday from KREG at the same hour.

WISE AND FAIR ACTION

The American Federation of Labor has joined with numerous other bodies in protesting against America's participation in the Olympic Games next year.

The Federation of Labor goes so far as to declare that no member of the body shall participate and it also encourages more intense boycotting of Nazi goods.

Certainly, all fair-minded men and women should approve of the first action of the federation referred to above. The basic foundation of real sport and the guiding principle of a real sportsman is that of absolute fairness.

When there is a world contest, real sportsmen naturally must insist that all people shall have the privilege of participating in the trials and in the finals, if they want, in such events.

To bar any class or group from participation in any nation, as they are preparing to select their best representatives, is to actually throw a cloud and serious doubt upon any winner in the national contest.

Germany has ruled that in order for any one to contest for the Olympic Games, he must belong to a certain organization. From membership in that organization, all Jews are barred. The logic and meaning of this are that the Jew is barred in Germany from any possible participation in the Olympic events.

No one will know and no one can know, under such a system of preliminary trial, whether indeed there is not a member of this faith and of this race who could excel, not only all other representatives in Germany, but any national representative who shall appear.

Whatever one's opinion may be of any other phase of this question, certainly the one point, that it is not a complete and universal test, goes directly to the merit of the event itself.

If there is to be a world contest, without the world participating, and particularly when the prejudice, cupidity and venality of certain ones prevent a complete contest, then every true sportsman, in the interest of his own honor, must refuse to participate. He should do so, both in the interest of those denied the privilege and his own integrity, should he happen to be the winner.

No wants a medal with a question mark after it. It may be possible that there is no Jew in Germany who could defeat Jesse Owens in the 100-meter dash or in the low hurdles. But the only way that Jesse Owens and the world may know it, is to assure every one of them an opportunity to try.

A real international Olympic, by the very nature of its objective, cannot be held in Germany, unless Germany shall have changed her rules in respect to this race.

Should the proposed participants send this word to Germany from all over the world, she probably will realize the perfidy of her actions.

No man is fit to be honored, in the world of sport, or, as a matter of fact, he should not be honored in the "game of life," in any respect, who evidences such fear of a competitor, that he uses political power and brute force to prevent that possible competitor from entering the field against him.

We should serve notice upon Germany that while a majority of her people are afraid of competition with another group of her citizens, and for that reason, she is barring them from trade, from the professions and from sports, that she cannot do it, as far as international sports are concerned, and expect to be sufficiently rated as sportsmen, as to conduct an international event like the world Olympics.

AFRICAN MILITARY SUCCESSES TO DATE

The war in Ethiopia is proceeding much as the experts have predicted, according to Russell Owen, writing in the New York Sunday Times. Progress has been slow and about as expected.

In the North, the Italians took Aduwa on scheduled time, but when it came to capturing Aksum, only 10 miles distant, almost a week passed by. Now Makale, only a few miles beyond, has been variously reported under siege and captured. Whichever may be true, progress has been very slow.

The report that Chief of Staff, Marshal Badoglio, has been sent to this front is interpreted by "Owen" as the prelude to a reorganization of the Italian command in Africa.

As the Italians proceed further South, they will have to fight their way through narrow defiles in the mountains, where their tanks cannot penetrate and where the Italian soldier must match his marksmanship with the native.

Little is heard of the Italian army that was to threaten the city of Harrar from the North. Starting its campaign at the edge of French Somaliland, it must cross a long stretch of low, fever-ridden swamp land. The absence of news may mean that this offensive has bogged down from its own weight.

In the South, the Italians are now fighting for a few brackish water holes 200 miles south of Harrar. With these in their possession, they hope to scale the mountains that lie south of the city of Harrar.

Masses of Ethiopian troops are being concentrated in the territory in between, and with the natives foraging for food wherever they may find themselves, the Italians must meet the problem of supplying everything they need from supply bases far to the rear.

A fourth Italian offense has started from the extreme Southwestern part of Italian Somaliland and must scale a range of mountains 12,000 feet high before they can get a glimpse of the "promised land" that lies beyond.

So far, the Ethiopians seem to have followed the tactics of 1896, permitting the Italians to penetrate to considerable distances before beginning vigorous sniping operations, according to Owen. Then, with a long line to defend and few enemies in sight, the Italian army will lose man after man.

"Airplanes as yet have not proven themselves effective weapons. So far, the Italians have used them only against Aduwa, Adigrat, and a few other places. A correspondent, driving through Aduwa after its capture, could see few signs of the damage they had done. In this respect, the experience of the Italians parallels that of the French in the war with the Riffs in Morocco."

Addis Ababa has not been bombed because it lies 700 miles distant from any Italian base. A flight of 1400 miles over uncharted mountain peaks, some of which are almost 14,000 feet in height, would have to be undertaken. After allowing for gasoline, the capacity for bombs would be limited and in the event that property of foreign nations were destroyed, Italy might have more difficulties with which to contend.

Unless bribery is resorted to, and disaffection aroused among native black chieftains, Mussolini may regret the vanity that lured him into this African situation.

FASCIST CREED

"As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." Italy is at war because Mussolini and his henchmen have developed a belief in war. Now they find themselves engaged in a life and death struggle.

Life to a "Fascist" is a desperate struggle, with each man preying on some one weaker than himself. To murder Negroes is but another competitive event.

Fascism believes that nations, like individuals, must constantly fight for life. Imperialism is regarded as an expression of the natural wish of all human beings to progress and improve themselves; imperialism is not to be condemned but admitted, respected, even stimulated.

"Peace and war," says Renato Ricci, head of the Fascist youth organizations, "are two phases of the life of nations, both equally necessary for the development of their future greatness."

Giovanni Guiriaty, secretary of the Fascist party, expresses perhaps the greatest contempt for peace. "Peace," he says, "is not justice, but violence that is made to prevail. Peace is a more or less lengthy pause necessary to prepare a new war."

"Perpetual peace is neither possible nor desirable, but a confession of cowardice and impudence," writes Mussolini in setting down the tenets of the Fascist creed.

"War," he says, "sublimates all human energies and places the seal of nobility on the people that have the courage to face it. It is for this reason that the doctrine that leads to the postulate of perpetual peace is a stranger to Fascism."

"Is it not better to die on the battlefield in an attack than to succumb to some stupid illness?" writes Mussolini in "Heroic Patrols" for Italian boys.

Is it any wonder that Italy has found the trouble for which she was looking?

What is more natural for an egotistic, murder-bent "bully" than for him to go out to kill those he can destroy, without a chance of their getting him?

Intra-Mural Sniping

San Diego Union

Big Bill Borah is right and Little Teddy Roosevelt is right, and they are both wrong to an extent that would bring a blush of embarrassment to an equestrian statue of Boss Tweed.

As Senator Borah says, the codification of industry threatens the country with coalitions which would make the Original Teddy's trusts appear petty. And as Teddy the Lesser asserts the costs of our war on the depression are fearful and incredible and alarming. But both contentions are so right that they make fools out of two Republican politicians who quarrel over them in public.

Each of these two distinguished gentlemen aspires to be master-mind in the Republican campaign, and each has his claim to the title. But neither seems to understand that a Republican victory in 1936 is the only thing that would give any value to the title if he got it. The test of victory is not whether Teddy beats Bill, or Bill beats Teddy. It is who wins the election.

With more than enough effective issues to choose from, it is foolish for these aspirants to make an intramural issue out of which issue is the best.

Senator Borah knows better than to act this way—and the fact that Teddy the Lesser does not, is no excuse for Borah's picking on him. Let him go pick on some Democrats. There are Democrats—or at least, probably there are—who are just as susceptible as Teddy is to an opportunity to fulminate foolishly in public. Let Borah bait them.

As between Senator Borah and Colonel Teddy, the issue is politics, not personal conviction or political theory. Victory for the party is of first importance to each, since without it his own place in the party would not be particularly rewarding.

And it is foolish politics to waste on each other the ammunition which may be needed against the enemy.

Submarine Oil Springs at Work

Long Beach Press-Telegram

That petroleum deposits extend under the sea has been well established by actual production of oil from such sources, as at Summerland, along the Ventura County coast, and in other places.

Presence of oil springs on the ocean bed off Southern California also has been known for many years; but only recently has scientific study proved these sources of ocean contamination to be of intermittent character. One oil spring is supposed to exist at a point four and one-half miles due west from Hermosa Beach, at a depth of 300 feet, and another one and three-quarters miles southwest of Redondo Beach, at 600-foot depth. These springs, however, have been inactive for several years. Perhaps their supply has been drained by wells on shore.

A new oil spring in the bottom of the sea has been discovered by Lieutenant John J. Purcell of the Coast Guard patrol boat Hermes, four and one-half miles from Manhattan Beach. Twice in six weeks this spring has emitted heavy tar that created mile-long patches on the surface of the water. These patches, carefully observed, did not reach any of the beaches. They came no nearer the shore than the breaker line.

While supporting the tanker theory that natural springs, rather than oil transportation carelessness, are responsible for beach pollution, Coast Guard investigations have failed to prove this point. At their worst, submarine discharges from oil pools do no more than contribute to a man-made nuisance that calls for remedy.

"Airplanes as yet have not proven them-

Looking Over The Prospects

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Page

Me and pop ax ma was eating breakfast and Uncle Albit was still upstairs shaving his face with one of pop's razor blades, and I said, "Just to show you, I'm going to eat more berries, and more, too."

One day I actually heard a little boy say to his mother: "All right, if you won't let me go out I won't eat my dinner for you. See if I care. I don't care if you do cry. Serve you right. I won't eat a thing for you."

You're telling me, pop said.

Meening that was just a trouble, and pretty soon Uncle Albit came down, saying, Good morning, everybody, I hope there's some cream left for little old Albit's coffee haw haw.

I trust you haven't got a bad head ake, pop said, and Uncle Albit said, I haven't got any kind of a head ake, why should I?

Yee gods, if I had put in a nite of snoring such as you put in last nite, I'm sure my head would be bursting with the reverberations, pop said. By golly you sounded like a symfiny orkestet made up of a saw mill, a boiler factory and 6 rivetting machines, I don't know how I got to sleep, I guess I was stunned, he said, and Uncle Albit said, Imagine that, I always enjoyed a reputation as a fancy snorer but naturally I don't want to keep innocent people awake. However, that makes us even, so please don't feel badly about it, I mean I heard you coming home from the bankwet or wherever you were, and if there was a door you forgot to slam, well you must of forgotten to slam it, he said.

Berglers and 2nd story men

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

LET'S STOP CALLING NAMES

(2) They are self-seekers who lack a social conscience.

(3) They are persons who want the government to do nothing and resent which can call the other the worst names.

There is entirely too much sheer calling to date.

The Democrats resent the fact that so many Republicans confine their political discussion to a vigorous denunciation of the Administration as a deliberate effort to destroy the America tradition and substitute therefor an alternative system half-Communist and half-Fascist.

The Republicans resent the fact that so many Democrats meet every suggestion of criticism of the Administration with the assertion that the critics have three faults that disqualify them, viz:

(1) They are intellectually insensitive to the far-reaching changes in American civilization that have taken place since the Constitution was drafted and the young Republic set going.

But these pictures by no means fit the rank and file of Democrats and Republicans. We are all Americans with an earnest desire for policies that will set the economic machine going again and bring decent opportunity to the millions.

Let's stop calling names and begin an honest and ruthless audit of the actual results of politics.

PERSONAL ISSUES

It is a mistake to tell a child by themselves. We can advise and help, but we cannot live for them. When we try we only spill the milk that we offer them.

Children are human through and through, and it is human to be contrary. Remember this when you find yourself slipping and
